

cell use in the air would be asking for additional problems that we (flight attendants) don't need in an already tense cabin atmosphere!!
We don't need any more stress in our performance of our duties, first and foremost SAFETY this would be an added vigilance for those who may have something else in mind like terrorism, shouldn't we be minimizing any possible communication in cabin for passengers, why should this be allowed public GTE phones are available for business, that's enough!! my other concern is can someone guarantee me 100% that there is no navigational instrument interference!!!!!!
